Native Mason Counten May Be Named Federal Judge For Panama Canal Zone—Other Political Tips.

Louisville, Ky., March 15. — Two Lexington men, Judge Charles Kerr and Thomas L. Walker, are slated as virtually certain appointees under the Harding administration according to authoritative information secured here. Judge Kerr is to be federal judge in the Panama Canal Zone, and Mr. Walker is to be collector of the port at Louisville.

Mrs. Kate King is to be postmistress at Lexington. Ludlow Petty, formerly of Shelbyville, now Louisville's chief of police, is to be appointed postmaster at Louisville. Another chief of police, G. Allie Sells, of Covington, is tipped for the postmaster's job in that city.

Judge McKenzie Moss, of Bowling Green, is slated for United States district attorney for Western Kentucky and Sawyer Smith, of Barbourville, is to have a similar office in the Eastern District.

Thomas Jackson, of Lebanon, is said to have the best of the argument in the bid for the internal revenue collectorship at Louisville, although J. M. Perkins, of Frankfort, has strong backing for the post.

The patronage distribution, it is said, will be announced within ten days after a conference of party leaders determines the availability of the various applicants. Mrs. King is a sister of Maurice Galvin, state-at-large member of the Republican State Central Committee.

NEW BUILDING TO BE ERECTED AT ONCE AT CAMP GROUNDS

Board of Managers of Ruggles Camp Meeting Hold Meeting Here Today—Date Is July 25th To August 7th.

The Board of Directors of Ruggles Campmeeting Association held a long and busy session this morning at the Third Street M. E. Church. Every member of the board was present—District Superintendents J. M. Lital, of Covington, and W. H. Daveport, of Ashland, Revs. N. G. Griswold, of Toleboro, W. B. Foley, of Vanceburg, W. H. Morris and W. S. Peters, of this city and lay members John R. Brodt, president of the board, W. D. Hendrickson, of Vanceburg, J. R. Hinton, of Epworth, and G. N. Harding and J. H. Richardson of the city.

The first matter of business taken up was the furnishing of the hotel. President Brodt as committee on this matter made his report and upon motion it was ordered that twelve rooms be thoroughly refurnished with new coats, mattresses, pillows and other fixtures to make the rooms attractive. This will make the hotel a very attractive place for campers who do not wish to rent and furnish a cottage.

The date of the campmeeting was set for Thursday, July 28th, to Sunday, August 7th, inclusive. It was decided that the camp should be open for campers from July first until August 31st. This is for the benefit of many who like to go ahead of time. Then this action of the board is to the effect that campers are not to come before or after the dates set.

By order of the board the auto park will be placed in a safe condition for the parking of all automobiles. No machines may be parked within the campus hereafter. The park will be let to responsible parties and a special price will be made to campers who have their autos. The larger part of the woods will still be free for parking purposes for those who do not wish special care taken of their machines.

On account of the improvements to be made to the hotel this making it a much more valuable concession it was decided to not open bids for same until the next meeting of the board on the Fourth of July. The other privilege including confectionery, barber and baggage room, and auto park will be let at that time.

The board decided to begin the erection of the new rooming building at once and selected members Harding, Brodt and Hinton as a building committee. Many applications for rooms have already been received and it is certain that every room will be rented in short order.

The talent selected to conduct the various meetings is always looked forward to with interest. Especially so as to the evangelistic talent. This year the Rev. Geo. W. Birney, of Columbus, Ohio, who is the Cincinnati area evangelist, will have this part in the campmeeting. Those who know Dr. Birney personally speak in the highest terms, not only of his ability as an evangelist but of the man himself. He makes a splendid impression wherever he goes.

Dr. J. L. Fort, of Louisville, will be secured for the Sunday school School of Methods work if possible. This will be a new service for the campmeeting and is expected to prove one of the most effective as well as most popular services of the campmeeting. Dr. Fort was one of the leading lights in the great Centenary campaign and is now pastor of Trinity M. E. church, Louisville.

Rev. Thos. B. Ashley, the "sweet singer in Israel," whom every Ruggles camper in recent years has learned to love, will have charge of the choir.

Miss Juanita Richardson, pianist at Third Street M. E. church, this city, will be the accompanist for the campmeeting.

Mrs. T. B. Ashley, of Pikeville, wife of the singer, will have charge of the children's hour work. Mrs. Ashley comes highly recommended thus assuring the continuance of this popular service.

W. D. Hendrickson, of Vanceburg, will be chief of police again. This assures the camp of continued good order. For all know that Col. Bill Hendrickson is a terror to evil doers.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sons were again selected as sexton and matron, respectively, for the campmeeting. They have proven so capable that their services seem almost necessary for a good campmeeting.

An effort will be made to secure Bishop Anderson for at least one Sunday, the bishop has a great interest in Ruggles campmeeting and was heard by great crowds two years ago when he visited the camp. He will no doubt make an extra effort to be present.

The board was very optimistic over the outlook for the success of the next campmeeting. From now on un-

OFFICERS HEAD OFF ATTEMPTED DELIVERY AT LOCAL BASTILE

Saws and Iron Pipe Found Hidden In Bank of Prisoner—Bars In Window Sawed—Delivered Nipped.

Another jail delivery at the Mason county jail was nipped in the bud by local officers this morning when they received information that the eight prisoners who are now incarcerated in the local bastille had started work last night at sawing through the bars in one of the windows and thus making their escape probably tonight or tomorrow night.

Acting upon the information they had received, local policemen went to jail this morning and began a careful search of every cell in the jail. In the bunk occupied by William Williams, colored, Officer P. Ryan found two back saw blades and an iron pipe more than a foot long. These tools were found hidden in the bedding.

Williams was arrested at the local C. & O. depot several days ago on suspicion and upon his person was found a heavy railroad bolt which the officers suspected was being carried as a weapon. Williams was a bad looking man and did not answer questions put to him by the officers to suit them and suspecting that he was a criminal wanted somewhere, he was held on suspicion. Chief Ort is of the opinion that Williams is a negro wanted in West Virginia on a murder charge and is now waiting to hear from the officers there. His being the leader in this attempt to escape confirms the officer in his opinion.

Williams when questioned this morning by Chief Ort, denied that he was the leader of the attempt at delivery and contends that the saws and iron bar were hidden in his bunk when he was outside in the corridor. This, however, is discounted. The prisoners had started last night in their attempt to saw through the window bars. The same window was selected through which prisoners escaped several months ago and but for the timely tip received by Officer Ryan of the attempt, the prisoners would probably have gotten away tonight.

The back saw blades are new and were handed to the prisoners through a window as the jailer and his assistants permit no one to converse with the prisoners except in the jail office when a turnkey is present so in a short time, it is believed.

LOU TELLEGAN HERE IN PERSON TONIGHT

Famous Young Actor Will Present Play in Which He Had a Part in Writing.

That Lou Tellegan, the eminent young romantic star, knew when he helped Willard Mack write "Blind Youth," the comedy drama which he will present at the Washington Theater tonight had a theme which would appeal to all classes of theater goers, and the creation of its central character would add new laurels to his already well filled crown, is amply exemplified by the enormous audiences he has played to ever since the premier of the play in New York where it ran most of a season, and later enjoyed like runs in Boston and Chicago.

Mr. Tellegan is bringing the play to this city with one of the most admirable casts ever seen with a traveling organization. Its roster includes Helen Grayce, Juliette Crosby, Lorna Ambler, Marcelle Bague, Kathryn Howard, George Deneubour, Mark Smith, Schuyler White and Russell Clark.

The many admirers Mr. Tellegan has made since his first visit to these shores, as leading man with Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, several years ago, will no doubt appreciate this announcement of his coming.

MARRIED HERE; ASKS DIVORCE.

Diverco, alimony, restoration of her maiden name of Puckett and an order restraining her husband from interfering with or molesting her were asked in a suit filed yesterday in Circuit Court at Newport by Marguerite Burnstein against Sam W. Burnstein, of 125 Fairfield avenue, Bellevue, Ky. According to plaintiff's petition, the couple were married in Maysville, Ky. on January 28, 1920. She charges him with cruelty.

Mr. Edward Kennard, of the county, who has been confined to his home for several weeks on account of illness, was able to be in Maysville today.

that they could not have been passed to one of the prisoners through the door. The mesh in the screening over the windows is about one inch in size and the saw blades could have been easily passed through this screening to one on the inside.

The officers are making a thorough investigation into the alleged conspiracy of the prisoners and the whole matter will be brought to light with- in a short time, it is believed.

WOODFORD JAILER IS REMOVED BY GOV. MORROW

Every Member of Woodford County Mo' Branded As Murderers and Governor Orders Reward.

Frankfort, Ky., March 15.—By proclamation Monday, Governor E. P. Morrow for the first time exercised executive authority to remove a peace officer for failing to protect his prisoner from a mob, when he declared vacant the office of John H. Edgar, County Jailer of Woodford, from whom a mob early Sunday took Richard James, a negro, and hanged him a mile from Vereanville.

The Governor also offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of any member of the mob and made the following statement:

"A mob has again disgraced Kentucky—a mob, useless, needless and without justification—the spirit of the lawbreaker crying out in the name of the law has put all law to shame. The distasteful and cowardly practice will continue as long as public officials surrender to the influence of the mob and have not the courage to resist and punish those guilty of their formation. Every member of this mob is a murderer, made and declared such by the laws of the Commonwealth.

"I call upon all peace officers and all those chargeable with the enforcement of law to bring these murderers to indictment and conviction; to the end that law, and not the mob, shall be supreme in Kentucky. I call the attention of all those having charge of prisoners and the duty of their protection to the anti-lynching law, and warn them that this law shall and will be rigorously enforced as long as I am Governor of the Commonwealth."

INCOME TAX RETURNS MUST BE FILED TODAY.

Today is the last day for filing income tax returns with the deputy Revenue collector and the revenue office at the local government building is about the busiest place in the city. Persons who have not filed their returns as yet had better get busy.

WILL BE BURIED HERE.

The body of Mrs. Lucile Stye, who died at her home in Cincinnati on Monday, will be brought here Wednesday and taken direct to the Maysville cemetery for burial.

OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

A NEW AND DIFFERENT ADMINISTRATION.

The news from Washington upon the very opening days of the Harding administration is encouraging to all men who voted not merely for a new but for a different administration.

An era of good feeling has been inaugurated. The closing of the gap existing for so long, and with such lamentable results, between the President and Congress, has begun in earnest. Instead of cold reserve, dogmatism and hauteur in the White House, we have cordiality, compliance and winning modesty. Instead of a spirit which repels counsel and confidence, we have a spirit which invites both and craves both without loss of dignity and without surrender of any prerogative.

The news comes to us that the smiling faces of both Democratic and Republican Congressmen and Senators, as many of one party as the other, may be seen coming from the office of the President, where they have been conferring with a man full of human qualities, urbane, kindly, approachable and resolutely bent on cooperating with the legislative branch of the government in every possible way.

The President is not a trained diplomat in the European sense. He has not been reared on the tradition that words are a mere means of concealing thought, and that diplomatic finesse consists in the artful practice of deception, and success in gaining an advantage regardless of right or the means employed.

But Mr. Harding is a past-master of that true diplomacy which consists in winning confidence, in reconciling differences, and in arriving at an honorable and satisfactory understanding with those who differ or who support conflicting claims.

Warren G. Harding believes in men, trusts them, draws out the best that is in them, engages their confidence and claims their help in the common task of patriotic service.

Senator Underwood, Senator Chamberlain and other leading men of the opposite party, have as easy access to the office of the President as the most influential men in his own party organization, enjoy his friendship and are heard with the same interest and respect.

Mr. Wilson was most unfortunate in being deprived of the experience in Congress which Mr. Harding enjoyed during his six years of service in the Senate. For Mr. Wilson, though he had served a short time as Governor of New Jersey, in reality came to his difficult work in the presidency with the mind and temper of a college professor and university president, and with a wrong conception of his office which he had expressed in his historical writings more than twenty years before.

He made no effort to work with Congress as a whole, but dictated, rather, to his own party representatives a policy matured in his own mind and handed down full-fledged from the "real throne of administration."

We have not only a new but a different administration. The American people, unless their character has been strangely modified in the past eight years, find it to their liking and look forward hopefully to an era of good feeling and substantial progress.

MORE DOCTORS CITED.

We note by the columns of that enterprising newspaper, the Owensboro Messenger, that quite a number of Owensboro physicians and druggists and a few at Henderson have been cited by Prohibition Director Paul M. Williams to appear before inspectors in those cities about the middle of the month to show cause why their permits should not be revoked for misusing their privilege to prescribe whisky.

The Interior Journal has frequently taken occasion to commend Director Williams for enforcing laws and for at least an attempt to stop the flood of whisky which grows out of doctors' prescriptions. If the director wants some good advice, we humbly suggest to him that one good way to stop that flood is to revoke the permit of every doctor who violates its terms.

Citations and hearings will not amount to much unless some of the offenders lose their permits. Hearings may be held until the crack of doom. The crooked physician cares nothing about that, so long as he may cater to the appetite of his "patient" who always did feel the need of a little whisky and who always will, so long as he can get it by fair means or foul.

Particularly should the humbug of "sick" hotel guests be broken up in Kentucky. Chief Inspector J. Sherman Porter says that the doctors are the unhealthiest in the world, if the doctors are believed, judging from the number of "patients" that appeal to these doctors for whisky prescriptions. Porter says they do not seem to have any other illness, though than one which requires whisky as a remedy.

Of course, that is a fraud and Director Williams should so treat by revoking every permit whose holder attempts such a fraud. — London Interior Journal.

HOW'S YOUR VOCABULARY?

There have been different estimates placed on the number of words in the English language. But 300,000 is generally accepted as the estimate.

Of these 300,000 not more than ten per cent. are in everyday use. Milton, who wrote "Paradise Lost," has a vocabulary of more than 7,500 words. Shakespeare, who wrote and wrote, had command of 15,500 words.

That they were exceptional men. The highly cultured man or woman of this day rarely has a vocabulary exceeding 5,000 words. Seldom, it is said, will be found a person in the ordinary life who is able to use more than two or three thousand words in the language. On the other hand, there are a few of such a type that they are limited conversationally to no more than 300 words.

Do you rank? Are you up there with Shakespeare? Do you belong to the 5,000 class? Or are you just one of the "ordinary" talking asset of between 2,000 and 3,000 words.

BATTLESHIPS ARE BEST.

Washington — Confirmation of the wisdom of Republican policy in Congress of steadily fighting for the maintenance of the battleship strength of the Navy is contained in a report made by Admiral Coontz, chief of operations of the General Board of the Navy. He says:

"Nothing that occurred during the World War has served to change the opinion of the General Board as to the vital importance in war of the battleship; the ship that can at once give and take heavy blows."

"Comment has been made from time to time in the press and elsewhere upon the comparatively little actual fighting done in the late war by the battleship fleets, and the conclusion has been drawn that because of their apparent inactivity they were of no use and could be dispensed with. The important service which they performed was neither generally understood nor appreciated. In reality it was upon the potential fighting power of these ships that the activities of all other naval craft was based. Throughout the war it was the Grand Fleet at Scapa Flow or thereabouts which controlled the movements of the enemy ships. It was the sea power latent in the battleships which exercised the pressure upon the enemy which kept the sea routes open to the Allies and appalled the morale of the German High Sea Fleet."

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of those who have passed the allotted "three score years and ten" to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over.

I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store I owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the laxatives and cathartics on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user; which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, so simply acting on the upper or small intestine, while others would act only on the lower or large intestine, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Natur's Remedy, which I truly believe goes further and does more than any laxative on the market today. The thousands of letters from users have convinced me I was right, and that the user of Natur's Remedy as a family medicine, even though he may have used it for twenty-five years, never has to increase the dose.

My knowledge of medicine and the results of its use in my own family and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to have great faith in Natur's Remedy from the very first.

And now as I find myself nearing the age when I must bow to the inevitable and go to another life, my greatest pleasure is to sit each day and read the letters that each mail brings from people as old or older than I, who tell of having used Natur's Remedy for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefited by it. It is a comforting thought, my friends, for a man at my age to feel that aside from his own success, one has done something for his fellow men. My greatest satisfaction, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefited by it. It is a comforting thought, my friends, for a man at my age to feel that aside from his own success, one has done something for his fellow men. WORLD MEETING OF 33 NATIONS TO AID TRANSIT

Delegates Regret Absence of United States From Discussions of International Communication.

Barcelona, Spain. — Delegates of thirty-eight nations attending the International Conference on Communications and Transit, in session here, were prepared Friday morning to begin serious consideration of the program outlined yesterday by Gabriel Hanotaux of France, the presiding officer. The most important matter before the meeting was the appointment of a committee to draft a part relative to transport. This convention was described by Count Quinones de Leon, Spanish Ambassador to France, as being a document which would "contribute to the development of international commerce, the expansion, progress and equality of peoples and the well-being of humanity."

It will be an attempt to settle international controversies relative to railroads, waterways and ports.

In his address Count Quinones de Leon called attention to the presence of delegates from countries discovered by Spanish explorers, and said that he was glad to see that they, by their presence here, gave proof of their relationship with Spain.

Regret regarding the absence of delegates from the United States and Argentina was expressed by many delegates and M. Hanotaux referred to the United States by saying:

"Our thoughts are with the absent." He said that, as Spain had been one of the first countries to join the League of Nations, under the auspices of which the present conference is being held, it seemed natural that the first technical conference of the league should be held on Spanish soil.

Later in the meeting M. Hanotaux referred to the "overwhelming importance" of the pact to be framed here, which, according to the Versailles treaty, must come into effect within five years after the conclusion of the war. He declared it would form a great feature in the relations of the world in future, because it would facilitate commercial communication and the distribution of necessary articles.

German delegates have arrived to attend the conference, but will act only in a consultative capacity.

New York Letter

New York. — Evidently the Fifth Avenue bus tops are to continue to hold their place as the last stand of the city's gentle love affairs. When the Park department took its cruel stand in regard to occasional hand-holdings or kisses being indulged in within their domain, nothing was left to the handholders but the bus tops. Then somebody remembered them and wrote to the Fifth Avenue Coach Co., protesting against its allowing any such goings on. The company refused to be disturbed or to issue orders against its more sentimental passengers. So the other day, a shocked person, signing himself in the good old way, "Pro Bono Publico," wrote a letter to Sheriff Knott, expressing his shocks. And that galant official replied "Let the spooners spoon," and more to that effect. So in this whole big city, there remain the few floating oases for those who have no homes of their own in which to express their sentiments.

Willard Mack snaps his fingers at temperament and mood and all the other customary needs of the creator of art and drama. He declares that when he wrote, staged and produced, "Smooth as Silk," the play in which he is now starring, in six days, he did what any other playwright could do if he didn't think it was necessary to flit to Palm Beach to "think" and to "write only when the mood is on" and all the rest of the things which Willard Mack calls plain inck of business methods. "If he wants to," he avers, "a playwright can do just as well in a Harlem flat as out in sunny Coney Island. But most of the time, he doesn't want to."

There is one region from which will come no measures to regulate woman's dress. That is New York City. Previously earnest reformers could usually get such bills introduced, even though everyone knew they wouldn't get beyond the "pleased to meet you" stage. But a representative from here was approached by one who was much disturbed about "what are we coming to" with a bill which would limit the brevity of women's skirts. "Not for me," said this wise man, eluding away. "Those short skirts put me here today. There are some thousands of them in my district. Not for me!" There are no dress reform bills before the New York Legislature as yet. There will be none.

It WAS an unusual sight that attracted the librarian's attention first. An ordinary looking man sat peacefully at a reading table when suddenly something soap-suds-looking gushed from the top of his waistcoat. The librarian hesitated. There was nothing in the rules to meet the emergency of a reader gushing soap-suds. Then she went over to him. "It is—anything the matter?" she asked gently. "Matter?" said the man; and then noticed his bubbling waistcoat. By that time three more eager members of the public library staff had gathered about. There was no escape and the man thrust in his hand and pulled out the bottle, which had got warm and

EVER HAVE IT!

If You Have, the Statement of This Mayville Citizen Will Interest You.

Ever have a "low-down" pain in the back? In the "small," right over the hips? That's the home of backache. If it's caused by weak kidneys. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Mayville people testify to their worth. Read a case of it: Mrs. R. L. Mattingly, 207 West Second street, Mayville, says: "I was in a bad condition with my back and kidneys. I couldn't get my proper rest at night owing to the dull misery in my back. I was feeling so miserable I often had to let my housework go undone. I was dizzy by spells and also suffered from rheumatic pains. I have been so bad that I couldn't walk without pushing a chair in front of me and my lower limbs were very painful. My kidneys were in a bad condition owing to their irregular action. My mother had used Doan's Kidney Pills successfully and that led me to send to Wood & Son's Drug Store and get a couple boxes. After using them I was all right. I have felt well since using Doan's and recommend them gladly." Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mattingly had. Peter-Milburn Co., Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

JOY BROUGHT INTO HOME

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Restoring Mrs. Benz to Health

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We have had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. As I was going to have another, I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says, 'That is some healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show this letter."—Mrs. C. W. Benz, 131 3rd Ave., Altoona, Pa.

No woman can realize the joy and happiness this healthy babe brought into the home of Mrs. Benz, unless they have had a like experience.

Every woman who suffers from any ailments peculiar to her sex, as indicated by backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, irregularities, nervousness and "the blues" should not rest until they have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

puffed its cork out with the force of its yeast or whatever it got the force from. "Why," gasped the severer guardians of the library law an order. "Why, he ought to be arrested. We ought to have him arrested." The original discoverer of his plight drew close to him. "What if GOOD home brow?" she asked. "Yes," cried the man defiantly. "It WAS good. And I got the recipe for it right here in your library!" The guardians withdrew without calling the police. They were not certain just what might be the law governing such recipes.

At last here's a film without any subtleties; and it's an interesting experiment. Charles Ray has done it in "The Old Swimmin' Hole." As a matter of fact there's no story, either, so perhaps it was an easy picture to try the method out on. It is an elaboration of Riley's poem, and the photography and characters are excellent.

The National Disabled Soldiers' League, with headquarters in this city sent personal letters the other day to the governors of all states in the Union, asking them to set aside the week beginning April 10, as "Disabled Soldiers' Week," for the purpose of attracting nation-wide attention to the needs of men who grieve their health and strength in the defense of their country. It was said that the disclosures of conditions at some of the hospitals where the soldiers are being cared for—more or less—has led to the action.

TO EQUAL BRITISH IN CHINA.

Washington. —Representative Dyer, of Missouri, has reported favorably from the Committee on Judiciary a bill designed to place American business on a footing with British and Japanese interests in China. In his report he says:

"China occupies a stretch of territory one-sixth larger than continental United States. The population is four times as large as our population and her climatic condition and natural resources are quite similar to ours. For years through the work of our missionaries and educators and the operation of our 'open-door' policy we have been building up a great asset of goodwill toward America on the part of the Chinese people. They know that America has no designs on their territory and that the close commercial relations of the two Republics will do much to strengthen China and enable her to more successfully cope with aggressors who do have designs on her territory. The fact that the trade between the United States and China had quadrupled in the last fifteen years prove the possibilities if we can be placed on an equal footing with our competitors."

The bill exempts American corporations doing business in China from income and surplus taxes, in this respect placing them on a par with British and Japanese concerns.

FUND FOR CHILDREN OF EUROPE HAS BEEN RAISED.

Literary Digest Announces That Thirty-three Million Dollars Is On Hand.

With grateful hearts we give thanks to Almighty God for a wonderful outpouring of love and generosity by the American people.

Three and a half million innocent children, helpless waifs of the war, were starving, and cold, and stricken with disease. They cried out across the sea, "Save us or we perish!" And the thirty-three million dollars needed to save these little ones from death has now been raised.

When, about four months ago, The Literary Digest published an appeal through the length and breadth of the Nation in the editorial, "The Slaughter of the Innocents," the great heart of America was stirred, as our hearts had been stirred. Millions of fathers and mothers were moved with a deep and tender yearning and a quick impulse to succor those innocent sufferers. Millions of happy children, also, felt the eager thrill of sympathy and desire to help. Like an inspiring vision, real and tragic, we could see those millions of tiny arms, bare and thin and trembling, stretched out to us in pain and want; we could see the sad little eyes searching our souls; we could hear their weak voices crying for food and comfort. We were told that the huge sum of money asked for could not be raised at this time. But knew that the American people, in their great-hearted love for children, could never in the past been deaf, to a real cry of suffering from little ones whose desperate need was laid on their hearts as a sacred trust. And now, with a wonderful feeling of exaltation, we are able to say, it is done! and the millions of our fellow countrymen who have contributed to this fund will share in the thrill of joy at the glad tidings.

And now a new vision greets the eyes of Americans; Three and a half millions of pairs of little arms are stretched out to us across the sea, not in piteous pleading, but in the passionate gratitude of childhood. Three and a half million pairs of eyes are searching our souls, not with the haunting gaze of suffering and death, but brimming over with joy and love and thanksgiving. Three and a half million childish voices are coming to us on the winds from the East, and they are not piercing our ears with blither cries of pain and want, but are sweet with laughter and the happy shouts of little ones whose suffering has been turned into joy. And yet more. In three and a half million young hearts have been planted a love of the American flag and an understanding of what it means that shall live through the years and grow into a strong bond of fellowship and peace.

The vast sum of money has been given with unselfish joy and eagerness. Thousands have written to us with real gratitude for the opportunity and privilege of buying for themselves that precious and priceless thing, the life of a little child. And many letters and telegrams from organizations and state and city committees have testified that the effort expended in carrying out this campaign has been a blessing to America.
